Evangelical Players Play Other Towns

The caste of the religious drama, "The Rich Young Man," journeyed to Carstairs on Monday evening and played to a full house in the United Church there. Didsbury artistes assisted between acts with a vocal duet by Miss Orpha Gabel and Miss Mary Wigglesworth, Miss Mildred Deadrick accompanying at the piano; a cello solo by Miss Evelyn Liesemer, accompanied by Mrs. Boorman; a vocal solo by Mrs. Wood; and a duet by Mrs. A. Deadrick and Mrs. St. Clair.

On Wednesday the players motored to Calgary, and by the kind courtesy of the Salvation Army, repeated their performance in the latter's citadel at First Street East. They were again gratified with a large audience, and were further assisted by the musicians.

At each place, the members of the caste were hospitably entertained by their hosts.

Misses Marie and Edith Chambers spent last weekend in Calgary.

School Board Considers Estimates

At the meeting of the school board the estimates for the year were considered and it was decided to ask for an appropriation of $11,000 which is the same amount as last year.

In the estimates provision has been made for providing an ample water supply. The present well has been in a poor condition for several years, due to the casing having rusted out, so it has been decided to drill a new well.

It was also decided to put in a new concrete floor in the playroom in the basement.

The Public School building was constructed about thirty years ago and until recent years has required but little in the way of repairs. The school board feel that by doing a certain amount of repairs each year for the next few years the building can be put in excellent condition.

Special Pictures at the Movies

Next Monday and Tuesday Mr. Sharp is bringing an outstanding picture to the Opera House in the "Crown of Thorns" which presents the birth, life, death and resurrection of Christ. The picture is taken from the great passion play which is given at Oberamagau.

This wonderful religious drama has attracted the attention of the world for years and this opportunity to see the great caste of players should not be missed.

Next Wednesday and Thursday another outstanding picture will be shown. "The Transatlantic Merry GoRound" is one of the leading musical-comedy productions of the year.

Fifteen radio, screen, and stage stars including Jack Benny, Frank Parker, Nancy Carroll, the Boswell sisters with Jimmy Grier and his orchestra.

This Saturday evening the sparkling comedy "Wine, Women and Song, featuring Lillyan Tashman and Lew Cody.

Bride-Elect Honored.

A very delightful shower was held Saturday at the Melvin School in honor of Miss Marian Johnston, popular bride-elect of the month.

The school was artistically decorated with wedding bells and pink and white streamers. As the guests entered their names were listed in an autograph album which was afterwards presented to Miss Johnston. Over a hundred guests were present and greatly enjoyed the games and entertainment. Special musical selections were contributed by a trio composed of Mrs. Boorman, Miss Evelyn Liesemer and Mrs. Bolton.

At the conclusion of the program, as the Wedding March was being played, a rose-decorated wagon was drawn in by little Anna Dupont and Clifford Bolton, dressed as bride and groom. The gifts were presented to the bride-elect and her fiancé beneath an arch beautifully decorated with roses. Among the gifts was a lovely set of dishes comprising over a hundred pieces from many of her friends.

A dainty and bounteous lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Free Lecture on Game Life

The free lecture which will be given by Mr. Stanley Clarke of Edmonton on Friday evening at the Opera House under auspices of the Fish and Game Association will be of interest to all lovers of game and the outdoor life.

Mr. Clarke, who is game commissioner for the province, is one of the best authorities on game propagation and preservation in Canada and has hunted and travelled in all the best hunting sections of both Alberta and B.C. He has a fund of stories and information that will be well worth listening to. His lecture will be illustrated with moving pictures.

Mr. R. T. Rodd, director of fisheries for Alberta, is also expected to be present and will give an outline of the work in his department.

There will be no charge for admission and everyone is invited to attend.

They say that this year they have the greatest lineup of talent ever presented by the great Al. G. Barnes Circus.

Summer Courses For Teachers

To provide opportunity for teachers of the province to obtain instruction in manual arts and shop subjects, that they may be in a position to meet such demands from their classrooms as arise for this class of work, a summer teachers' course of five weeks is being provided by the provincial technical school at Calgary. It is announced by Hon. Perrin Baker, minister of education. This course commences July 2, and closes August 7, and instruction will be given in the following subjects: Woodworking, machine shop and forging, autos, electricity, mechanical drafting, and sewing and cooking for girls. The course is provided at a nominal fee. The technical institute will also conduct an art school at Banff from August 5 to 23, under direction of A. C. Leighton, R. B. A., well-known artist of Calgary, whose pictures have appeared in the Royal Academy in London for the past 15 years.

Grain Elevators Would Be Under Board's Control

Bill With Sweeping Provisions Introduced in the House by Prime Minister—Constitutes Practically a Monopoly of Interprovincial and Export Grain Trading in Canada.

What constitutes practically a monopoly of interprovincial and export grain trading in Canada is given to the proposed Canadian grain board introduced in the House of Commons on Monday by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett.

The measure would place all grain elevators in the four western provinces under the exclusive control of the board. The bill is expected to end operations in futures now dealt with on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

As a result of the understanding between the parties the bill will go to a house committee for consideration. The suggestion came from Liberal Leader Mackenzie King and the Prime Minister acquiesced, reserving his decision as to whether it would be one of the regular committees or one especially appointed.

Musical Evening.

Mrs. Boorman entertained at a delightful musical evening Friday last as her contribution to the Knox United Church Talent Fund. All present much appreciated the musical program presented, which consisted of a musical trio comprised of Miss Evelyn Liesemer, Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Boorman; piano selections by Mrs. Jack Pearson and Mary Boorman; cello selections by Betty Boorman; trumpet solo by Murray Cathness; vocal solos from Misses Elsie Goertz, Dorothy Ranton and Mrs. Boorman, and a male quartette comprising Messrs. Ward Wyman, J. W. Halton, John Goertz and J. Boorman.

Graveyard Ghost Merely Tombstone.

The "ghost" of Airdrie cemetery has turned out to be a tombstone. Motorists noticed strange, eerie lights in the cemetery as they passed. The headlights of their automobiles, striking a tombstone at a certain angle, produced the spooky effect, investigation revealed.

Planning

In these days much is heard of the art of planning and the dire necessity for scientific, constructive planning in finance, economics, industry, social services, in fact in all the organization of our modern life and its varied interests and activities. Indeed, if a person was prepared to unthinkingly accept the advice being so freely tendered in many quarters, only one conclusion would be reached, namely, that mankind in mass could, if it would, definitely plan and order its way of life, and clearly and authoritatively scale and draw a plan that would work with the simplicity and accuracy of the multiplication table.

But life is not like that; too many contrary factors enter into the scheme of things and life, too many factors, influences and natural laws which are beyond human control to permit of any such artificial planning that will prove workable and fool proof. As the poet Burns so well expressed it:

The best laid schemes o' mice an' men
Gang aft a-gley,
An' lea'e us naught but grief and pain,
For promised joy.

Two years ago President Roosevelt's "brain trust" decided that the whole economic life of the United States could be planned and charted in advance; that it could scientifically plan and control the production of that great country so as to overcome and prevent what was alleged to be the evils of over-production. It set out to do so, but instead of facing the primary cause of the alleged over-production, it adopted and acted upon the easy formula that all that was necessary was to compel by law a reduction in the volume of production.

So wheat farmers were bonused, not to grow wheat, but to stop growing it; cotton planters were bonused to stop growing cotton; farmers were paid to quit raising hogs, and so on and so forth, and the consuming masses of the people were taxed in order to raise the funds wherewith to pay these bonuses on destruction. Then Nature stepped in, withheld its usual bountiful supply of rain, sent excessive heat and blistering winds and swirling dust storms, and in a brief space of time reduced production over man's mistaken efforts, and to a far greater extent, until within a few months a shortage of supplies faced the nation instead of an over-production, which over-production had actually resulted from a previous form of artificial planning in the shape of tariffs and other trade restrictions.

Following the Great War, the statesmen of the world assembled in Paris to draft a treaty of peace and to plan the future of Europe and the world. They labored for months, created elaborate international machinery to direct and control world affairs, re-arranged the boundaries of countries, and gave birth to new nations. On paper their plans looked good; they were hailed as a great advance in the cause of world peace and international goodwill and co-operation.

But in the years that have followed all the passions, prejudices, suspicions, racial and religious animosities, and vagaries of human nature have continued to hold sway over millions of mankind. Much of the planning has proved an abject failure, some of it has been thrown into the discard, and what remains is in danger of destruction through another world upheaval.

Thus has it been amply demonstrated that man cannot direct and control the immutable laws of Nature, nor can he forecast them in any scheme of planned economy he may devise; neither can a few planners, however able and sincere they may be, draft plans and charts which will work despite all the selfishness, the ambitions, the ignorances, passions and prejudices of man.

This being so, the nations are now being told by the planners that mankind in the mass can no longer be trusted; that democratic forms of government are a failure; that instead of the people creating and controlling their governments, forms of government must be set up which, controlled and directed by a few, will super-impose their will upon the masses, control and order the people, instead of the people controlling the governing bodies.

Such a plan may be inaugurated; it may work for a time, but not for long. It can never possess any degree of permanence, because man was created a free being with a mind, a will, a soul of his own, and in the final analysis he will, because God and his own nature intended that he must, work out his own salvation. No other power, and least of all a government, can do it for him.

The proper study of mankind is man, and the proper, only permanent, planning is by individual man, namely, that he so order his life and his activities, so control his ambitions and his passions, as to come within the plan laid down in the Golden Rule—Do unto others as ye would that they should do unto you.

Queen Mary's Tea Chest

Gift From Ceylon To Be Exhibited In Toronto

Visitors to the Ceylon exhibit at the forthcoming Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto will have an opportunity to see the beautiful chest presented to Her Majesty at Christmas by the Empire Tea Growers. The chest is made of rare and lovely woods—rosewood from India, inlaid with satinwood and ebony from Ceylon and purpleheart from British Guiana, the woods being left in their natural state at the express wish of Her Majesty. The inlay on the lid has the Queen's own royal cypher. When presented to Queen Mary the chest contained fifteen pounds of the finest grown Empire tea, valued at over $3 per pound.

Of Canadian Make

Dominion Supplies Medium-Quality Gauntlets For English Motorists

Motorist and motor cyclists in the United Kingdom wear leather gauntlets when driving during the winter. Even during the summer months motor cyclists use them when traveling at night. A large proportion of the medium-quality motor cyclist's gauntlets are of Canadian make, according to the Industrial Department of the Canadian National Railways. While the British are experts when it comes to sheepskin gloves, strange as it may seem, in the case of those made of heavier leathers, such as cow, mule and horse hide, they have to be imported.

NOT A RHEUMATIC PAIN FOR 4 YEARS

70-Year-Old Man Praises Kruschen

A man who once suffered severely from rheumatism writes:—

"For a long time I suffered with rheumatism, and at one time was laid up for about nine weeks. About five years ago I was advised to try Kruschen. I did so, and have continued using them ever since. Kruschen did the trick, as I have not had a rheumatic pain for over four years. I am nearly 70 years of age, and feeling fine, and always able for my day's work—thanks to Kruschen."—A. S.

Kruschen dissolves away those needle-pointed crystals of uric acid which are the cause of all rheumatic troubles. It will also flush these dissolved crystals clean out of the system. Then if you keep up "the little daily dose," excess uric acid will never form again.

Helps Building Industry

Chemistry Comes To Aid With Many New Materials

Even eggs and milk may enter the making of new construction materials in a building boom, predicted by famous chemists at the opening session of the American Chemical Society's tercentenary celebration in New York.

A boom in the building industry inspired by discoveries of chemists, many of them made during the depression, was forecast by Prof. James R. Withrow of Ohio State University.

Artificial stones are already made in every color and with any degree of hardness a customer desires. Wood rot and metal rust are both stopped by numerous new protectives.

Bricks that partake of the lightness of thistledown and other lightweight construction materials promise much higher, yet even safer skyscrapers.

A Dangerous Procedure

Doctor Warns Against Forced Giving Of Cod Liver Oil

Dr. Irving Graef, pathologist of Bellevue hospital, New York, told the American Association of Pathologists and Bacteriologists, mineral oils and animal fats drawn into the lungs of infants and adults had proved fatal in six cases of pneumonia. Cod liver oil, described as good when taken into the stomach for bone building, Dr. Graef said was deadly when it entered the lungs. He cited one case to show the oil had entered the lungs through forcing a reluctant child to swallow it by holding his nose.

How Spare Pennies Grow

British Post Office Savings Increased By $28,000,000 Last Year

More pennies and shillings than ever are being put into Post Office Savings Banks in Britain.

The head office has announced that deposits of small savers have reached the record figure of £355,000,000. They increased by £28,000,000 during last year alone. Over the last two years they have increased by £50,000,000.

These large sums are made up entirely of the occasional spare coins of villagers and townsmen in Britain. One of the methods of saving is to buy special stamps and stick them in a savings book. When a certain number have been collected the book is given in to the local post office and the amount represented is credited to the saver's account.

Last year 250,000 "home safes" were issued. These are special post office home money boxes which can be taken to the local post office when the owner desires and the amount in them credited to his account.

The Post Office Savings Bank now has more than $9,500,000 depositors. And that number is increasing by 12 per cent. each year.

Another Surgical Find

Human Suffering Reduced By Operation On Pain Nerves

Surgery on the nerves of pain offers hope of reducing human suffering.

The operations possible were reviewed by Francis C. Grant, M.D., of Philadelphia, at the meeting of the American College of Physicians.

Some of the fibres form the bundles of nerves, just as separate fibres form threads, carrying the sensation of pain; others give the movement orders.

By cutting the pain fibres in the spinal cord pain can be stopped in the legs and up into the pelvis. Touch and position nerve fibres remain unimpaired and the movements of the legs are not interfered with.

Another operation severs the roots of some of the nerves, but is seldom used because, while it relieves pain, it interferes with movement.

Seeking to block the "pain pathways" through the nervous system is the latest method of attack. This has been done successfully for some pelvic malignancies and for angina pectoris.

Camels For Russian Farms

Farmers of Soviet Russia are to be supplied 257 camels this year to be used in the establishment of new camel farms. The farm in the semiarid Yedich district of Western Kazakhstan now has 2,335 ships of the desert, the herd increasing 24 per cent. in 1934.

Upholding The British

New York Paper Sticks To Statement About War Debts

The New York Daily News says: "We've received a number of unflattering letters in reply to our editorial in which we said England is right in refusing to pay any more of its war debts to us for the time being. These letters advise us that we are in the pay of the Redcoats, traitors to Uncle Sam, trying to lick the King's boots, etc."

Let's come down to brass tacks. How about our debts to our own people (and to any foreigners who happened to buy our bonds)? We aren't paying them, are we? President Roosevelt has taken 40 cents out of every dollar, and he won't pay a dollar of those debts in gold. Furthermore, our Supreme Court sustained that default. So if John Bull is a nasty old repudiator, what is Uncle Sam?

The fact is the war cost so much that every country which took part in it, including ourselves, has had to repudiate a large part of its war debts."

Bible Distribution

Colporteurs Deliver An Average Of 30,000 Bibles A Month

By dog team in the far north and on foot through every part of Canada, Colporteurs distribute an average of 30,000 Bibles a month, according to the annual report of the Canadian branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society.

An increased demand for Bibles in English is reported from foreign language groups of workers in Western Canada.

After all expenses were met, $39,000 was sent to London for worldwide work compared with $23,000 in 1933. Bibles distributed showed an increase of 22,000.

If on rising in the morning you stand in your pyjamas before the open window and slap your chest with both hands for several minutes you will notice a crowd slowly gathering in the street below.

Plan To Connect Vancouver And Alaska With International Highway Down Pacific Coast

"Build the Alaska highway and put Vancouver on the great international highway that reaches down the entire western fringe of the North American continent."

That is the international mission on which A. F. Holloway of Seattle is engaged. Mr. Holloway will canvass the centres of Alaska and the Yukon, and, on the return route, of Central British Columbia, securing public backing to petitions to be sent to the Dominion and provincial governments in Canada, and to the United States Congress.

Here are the main facts of the highway to date:

Pacific Yukon highway now built to Hazelton from Vancouver, distance 835 miles.

Canadian portion to be built, to Alaskan boundary, 865 miles.

Cost of Canadian portion, twelve million dollars.

United States portion to be built in Alaska, to Fairbanks, 371 miles.

Cost of United States portion, two million dollars.

This project would establish one of the world's greatest scenic tourist routes.

It would take tourists from Vancouver up through the great Fraser Canyon, thence north to the Cariboo highway, and on the northern road from Prince George to Hazelton, thence into the Yukon, with a connecting road from Prince Rupert connecting at Hazelton.

The entire Pacific coast has got in behind the project, said Mr. Holloway. Chambers of Commerce, service clubs and various organizations have gone on record in favor of it.

He is confident that the railway would be one of the greatest tourist revenue producers tapping as it does enormous resources in mining, timber, furs and big game.

"Do the citizens of Vancouver realize the importance of having such a highway completed?" Mr. Holloway wonders. "Do they realize the great benefits that will accrue, not only to Vancouver but to all British Columbia and Yukon Territory? It will be a golden highway leading to the midnight sun."

"It will," he points out, "give employment to thousands and will open up a vast territory of mineral possibilities, an enormous field for profitable investment, and an inviting region for prospectors and homesteaders, as well as an area of magnificent scenic beauty."

"This is an area that must attract untold thousands of tourists and which will be a golden harvest."

In addition to these things, Mr. Holloway believes the Alaska highway will cement the friendly relations between Alaska residents and their British Columbia neighbors.

A pioneer of Seattle, Dawson and Fairbanks, Alaska, Mr. Holloway is the author and publisher of a valuable map of Northern British Columbia, Yukon Territory and Alaska, which bears the slogan: "Open the Golden Empire of the North." It shows the proposed route of the highway, Vancouver to Fairbanks.

Sympathy Being Wasted

Modern Youth Need Not Pity Women Of Victorian Age

Young people to-day tend to waste too much sympathy on the Victorian woman, in the opinion of Mrs. A. R. McBain. They pictured her, Mrs. McBain said in an address to the Montreal Women's Club, as "languishing, shut in by three thicknesses of curtain and a heavy father."

Beginning with Queen Victoria herself, whom several biographers recently have spoken of as a statesman, Mrs. McBain pointed out a number of women who had made notable achievements. Among them were Florence Nightingale, George Eliot, Charlotte Bronte, Elizabeth Barrett and Emmeline Pankhurst.

"I think some of the things we cherish have come to us from the despised Victorians," said Mrs. McBain.

Melodious Auto Horns

Research Proves They Have Great Carrying Capacity

Another cause of nervous strain, the raucous motor-horn, is an equally needless affliction. Here again research has proved that a double-note horn tuned to a major or minor third combines great carrying capacity with absence of offence to the ear, and its use might well be standardized. The general noise of transport is hard to reduce, but it is by the glaring offenders that the nerves are jarred, and the worst of these can and should be eliminated.—Manchester Guardian.

King Of Wheat Kings

Seager Wheeler, Wheat Grower Extraordinary, To Take A Trip To England

In recognition of his contributions to agriculture in Western Canada, Dr. Seager Wheeler, wheat grower extraordinary of Rosthern, Saskatchewan, has received a gift trip to England through a number of his friends and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Famous throughout the world for the championship wheat that he has grown, the story of Seager Wheeler's life in Western Canada is one of resourcefulness and pluck, not unaccompanied by disappointment and temporary failure, and finally reward with a large measure of success. Emigrating to Canada from the Isle of Wight in 1885, when but a boy of sixteen, his achievements in producing strains of wheat adapted to Western Canada conditions have made him one of the Dominion's outstanding settlers. He is the only man who had the distinction of being crowned "world wheat king" five times, having won the title for championship wheat in 1911, 1914, 1915, 1916, and 1918. In addition to wheat awards Seager Wheeler has captured many prizes for oats and barley, and has also taken many awards with exhibits of various grasses, fodder crops, potatoes, etc. In honour of his accomplishments a doctorate was conferred on him by Queen's University.

Fast Locomotive Ready

Newest Steam Engine Can Travel 120 Miles An Hour

A 120-mile-an-hour locomotive, the answer of the steam engine builders to Diesel competition, tore through a red, white and blue veil at a locomotive works in Schenectady, N.Y., and was officially christened for service on a middle western railroad.

The engine is the first of two to run between Chicago and St. Paul. The Hiawatha, for that is her name, is an oil burning steam engine covered by a smooth metal shell.

Air Powers Are Striving To Develop Mammoth Airplanes To Transport Troops At High Speeds

Celebrating In Big Way

Britain's Great Sales Catchword This Year Is "Jubilee"

Britain is jubilee crazy. It's the chief topic of interest for every true-blue Briton and "jubilee" is the year's great sales catchword.

If a girl loves her king and empire she'll wear a red, white and blue ensemble. She will have her fingernails tinted in red, white and blue stripes, red, white and blue striped earrings will be in her ears, and a scarf to match will be around her throat.

She will have the colors of the Union Jack in her clothes, arranged in novelty effects. Perhaps she will have a white skirt, red blouse and blue coat.

Her head will be covered with jubilee curls, her frock will be clipped with a miniature of the king and queen, and special jubilee beauty treatments will give her a "jubilee face." Those girls with blue eyes, red cheeks and white skin will be just in style.

Jubilee cocktails are the favored kind; a show which hasn't at least one "gag" about "jubilation" in it is rare; the jubilee hop and the jubilee blues are features at some night clubs and dance halls.

The jubilee has brought great joy to the retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers.

Windows or stores display a vast melange of merchandise arranged in a patriotic manner, with emblems of the empire made out of all sorts of things, even lingerie.

Even spring flowers in the parks around Buckingham palace have their part in the jubilee movement. Red, white and blue blooms grow in special beds.

The "Aircraft Year Book," issued by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America, says that "multi-engined machines carrying 50 soldiers with full fighting equipment, or their equivalent in bombs," is what air powers are striving to develop within the next few years.

Such mammoth machines, the year book says, would be capable of 300-miles-an-hour speed at an altitude of three miles.

Of Germany and her air force, the publication says:

"Within the space of two years of the most intensive effort, Germany, with 17 aeroplane factories and nine engine plants, has succeeded in turning out some 600 military planes. With the exception of several experimental types, including three light bombardment and one heavy bomber, none of the German planes has been developed to a state of speed and performance which would warrant matching strength with either the French or Polish equipment."

France has more combat planes than any other power, according to the publication. It goes on to say: "France has approximately 3,200 fighters, bombers and observation machines at home with some 400 others in the colonies."

"But actually, the British Empire is the strongest power in the air. The British have 2,800 combat planes, of which 1,300 are kept in the British Isles, 400 are assigned to the navy, 600 are with Royal Air Force contingents on duty abroad, and 500 are maintained by other air forces in the dominions and other possessions of the empire."

Wheat Quality Conditions

Excellent Quality Of Western Wheat Due To Seasonal Conditions

Quality in wheat is largely determined by the character and quantity of the protein. Protein in wheat is commonly known as gluten. The character of the gluten appears to be chiefly an inherited factor but investigations by the Dominion Department of Agriculture extending over a period of thirty years have shown that the amount of this valuable constituent is largely determined by local conditions, principally precipitation but also temperature and hours of sunshine. These investigations have been conducted at a considerable number of stations located at strategic points throughout the Dominion and the data amassed very clearly prove that the excellent quality of the wheat of the Prairie Provinces in general is largely due to favourable seasonal conditions which include high temperatures and absence of excessive moisture during the latter stages of the development of the grain. For the production of the high quality wheat, the economic value of these conditions, says the progress report for 1930-33 of the Dominion Division of Chemistry, has not been sufficiently recognized as being of equal importance to that of desirable inherited characteristics such as quality of gluten and earliness in ripening, and a fertile soil.

Stories Are All Wrong

Professor Says West Indies Voodooism Is Peaceful Religion

Stories of seamen and fiction writers of bloody voodoo rites in the West Indies have been "debunked" by Dr. Melville J. Herskovitz, who recently returned from a three-month sojourn in native huts of the most primitive peoples in Haiti and western Africa.

Dr. Herskovitz, professor of anthropology at Northwestern University, Chicago, has engaged for 10 years in research among black races.

"Voodooism is not the bloody terror that movies and books make of it," he said. "In reality it is a most peaceful religion. Its devotees attend ceremonies regularly on Saturday night, much in the nature of Wednesday prayer meeting. Human sacrifice is unknown."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Don't Overlook the Importance Of Birthday Pictures

Don't delay taking the new baby's picture and then watch him grow through monthly snapshots thereafter.

In these modern times the father is lucky if he is permitted to see his newly-born heir for several days after Sir Stork has delivered his package, unless it is through the heavy glass of a well guarded window or door in the hospital. After a few days, however, when nurses and doctors decide he is not a common carrier of germs that might attack the baby and retard its growth, he should by all means exercise his authority as a father and demand permission to "shoot" the baby—with a camera, of course.

Every month is usually considered a birthday in a baby's life until he is a year old. Thereafter, regular yearly birthdays are in order. At least a picture a month should be made of the new boarder and after the first twelve months you had better keep your camera loaded with film at all times for you can never tell when your baby is going to take his first cautious, faltering step—and what an event in your life—not his. It apparently means nothing to the baby. He simply steps out in a matter-of-fact, but careful manner, and you get all excited, let out a couple of whoops, gasp, laugh and scare the infant so thoroughly that he falls down and has to do it all over again.

The chances are that you will not be prepared for that first step, or if you would happen to be holding the camera in your hand you may, in your excitement, even turn it in the wrong direction and get an out-of-focus picture of your own mid-section.

But don't miss this moment of moments the next time. Have your camera and yourself ready for action.

There never seems to be enough of these baby pictures to go around for there are grandmothers, aunts, cousins and friends in distant cities who are always looking forward to receiving a snapshot of the newly-arrived commander of the "infantry."

Before you can realize where the days, months and years have gone your child is starting to school. The baby has grown up and before you have a chance to wonder how he will "turn out" you are wondering what time he will come home to "turn in."

There's always the "first time" for everything and this applies to thousands of events in a baby's life. There is the first time he discovers he has toes, and immediately decides in his own little mind that they are something good to eat. His first smile, and then that great moment when he reaches out with his chubby little arms and says, "Blah," which is at once interpreted by the parents to mean "Daddie," or "Mommie," sometimes depending on who is "head" of the household.

So make this "Baby Picture Preparedness Week" and load your cameras ready for action. You don't have to wait "until you see the whites of their eyes," as a certain military man once said, but "shoot" the minute they perform one of their fascinating, amusing little baby "tricks."

Tribute to Country Merchants.

Merchants Have Financed Men On Land for Food Shelter and Clothing.

In the course of a recent address
Hon. Mr. Lymburn of the Alberta Government had this to say of the country retail merchant:

"It should be said right here that the attitude of creditors generally has been very fair. A special word should however be said about the small country retail merchant. The average person does not appreciate the extent to which such men have thrown into the fight practically everything they have and have financed the man on the land and made it possible for him to be fed, sheltered and clothed when credit from most other sources was practically dried up."

This tribute is quite in order and farmers throughout the west should give this very serious consideration and when looking over the big mail order houses catalogues just ask themselves, would these houses advance me food, clothing and shelter in time of need?

Alberta Crop Report.

Issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

Establishing the latest record in Alberta's history, seeding of wheat was completed in most districts of the province by June 1. In a few localities in the territory northwest and west of Edmonton, where the land got no opportunity of thoroughly drying, wheat-seeding has been practically abandoned for the season and the crop will be replaced by coarse grains. Seeding of coarse grains is from 50 to 80 percent completed.

Wheat is covering the ground in most districts and, generally speaking, displaying a healthy, even growth. This is particularly true of southern areas, where moisture and weather conditions have been such during the past fortnight as to bring on rapid growth. Coarse grain in many districts is also showing above-ground.

The wheat area of the province will show a still further reduction this season. Any actual estimate will not be possible until the June census survey is complete, but present indications are that it will approximate the reduction of last year, which was in the neighborhood of 5 percent of the 1933 area. The heaviest reductions in wheat acreage are being made in the northern and northwestern districts, where seeding was abnormally delayed by cold, wet weather. In some of these districts the reduction is stated to be as high as 20 to 30 percent. In most cases this area is being transferred to the coarse grains column, but the increase in these will not offset the decrease in wheat. On the other hand, in some of the southern areas there has been an actual increase in wheat acreage, owing to the very favorable conditions. The net result will be a decrease on the whole provincial wheat area.

Moisture conditions, generally, may be said to be the most favorable since 1928. In the southern and central areas warm, clear weather has alternated with showers during the past fortnight. In the districts from Edmonton west, north and northeast, however, weather for the most part has been cool and backward, with considerable rain and with very few clear, warm days thus far. Moisture supply over all the province is stated to be quite sufficient for present purposes.

Grasshoppers have commenced to hatch in the affected areas in the south, but the backward spring has so delayed the hatching process that the 'hoppers have not yet constituted a very serious menace in any district.
Nevertheless, farmers are warned to take full measures for distribution of poison-bait when the 'hoppers begin to show.

Soil-drifting has occurred in one or two southern districts, but the crop growth generally has advanced to a stage beyond the possibility of any great damage from this cause.

There is considerable interest in malting-barley as a crop this year, and demand for seed is quite heavy from some districts in the central and northern parts of the province.

Pastures are coming on now more rapidly, providing needed grass for stock, which in many districts is still showing thin condition from the long winter and the effects of the shortage of feed. Cattle are putting on flesh. Livestock generally is improving in condition. Some loss in spring litters of pigs is reported. The lamb crop generally is stated to be somewhat below normal.

Cattle shipments to the U.S. market continue at good prices, the total export from Alberta to May 23 having been 12,553 out of a total from all Canada of 69,954. Hog marketings from Alberta to May 23 totalled 394,775 head, compared with 1,258,318 head from all Canada and 345,354 head from Ontario.
Percentage of selects and basons marketed was 56.45 percent of the total of the province's marketings.

Trail Riders of Rockies Prepare for Annual Meet

Trail riders of the Canadian Rockies will go over the mountains from July 26 to 30 on their official 5-day horseback tour, seeking fish for the fishermen, unparalleled scenery for the amateur photographer, health and entertainment for all.

The unique thing about this society, with its worldwide following of prominent men and women, is that the members have no axes to grind, no plans for reforms, but only an appreciation for real beauty and life in the open, plus a hearty appreciation of where best to satiate their desires.

Started several years ago to permit access to beauty spots untouched by railroad or highway and where distances were too great for hiking, this annual horseback ride has grown steadily in popularity.

Edmonton for a week's visit with his parents and friends.

recently on his way to the George Lashmore ranch.

Mr. Hewitt, who formerly owned a store at Cremona, now has a store at Elkton and one at Bergen.

Born: At Olds, to Mr. and Mrs.

his seeding all done.

SOFTBALL.

Locals Beat Olds.

The local Canaries had a soft game last Friday night when they took the Olds team into camp by a score of 11 to 3. Holub was in fine form and limited the visitors to five scattered hits while his team mates collected 15 off the offerings of Holmes. The Olds team had an off night as they contributed 7 errors against two by the locals.

Didsbury: Berscht, Tuggle, Brus-
so, Geiger, Morasch, H. Gulliver, R. Gulliver, Holub.

Olds: E. Morrison, Rose, Hayes, Wainman, Black, Holmes, Earl,
McCall, V. Morrison, Outten.

Didsbury Win in 10th.

Scoring two runs in the tenth inning after Fred Evans had tied the score in the ninth, Didsbury Canaries took undisputed leadership of the Big 4 softball league by defeating Melvin Go-Getters Monday night in a game that had the fans in a frenzy of excitement throughout.

The game provided everything that goes to make a good ball game; fine pitching, heavy hitting, brilliant fielding, plenty of errors and close decisions all thrown in together to make nervous wrecks of the large crowd present. The keenest of rivalry was manifested, with each team having its fair quota of rooters and good sportsmanship was shown throughout the game. It was a great game to win and a mighty tough one to lose, both teams scoring a number of unearned runs donated by loose fielding and wild throws.

Melvin brought in a snappy ball team that will make them all sit up and take notice. In Paul, they have the best catcher to appear here in many years. Young Honey made some nice catches in centre field, and the team as a whole are all heavy hitters and gave Holub plenty to worry about every inning.

It is almost safe to give credit for the win to the fine playing of Fred Evans and Alf. Brusso. A smart catch by Honey robbed Evans of a perfect day at bat. As it was he collected four safeties in five trips to the plate and his brilliant base-running in the ninth frame scored the run that tied up the game and sent it into extra innings.
Brusso in centre field made some sensational catches that were real heartbreakers to the rival team. On three occasions he pulled down tough drives that certainly would have meant runs for Melvin if they had been missed.

BASEBALL

Olds 13 Didsbury 2

Showing superiority in every department Olds took a 13-2 decision from the less experienced Didsbury team in an exhibition game at the local diamond last Thursday night.

Edgar Pearson, who started on the mound for Didsbury, did a nice job but retired in the sixth in favor of George Geiger, who was hit freely.

McKay and Gooder, who did mound duty for Olds, had the Didsbury boys outsmarted all the way.

CHAPTER I.

Dad was worried about something. All through dinner Nancy had been aware of it. Not once had he taken part in the conversation, and though outwardly unchanged (the girl was proud of her well-groomed, youthful-looking father) he seemed, somehow, miles and miles away. When even Jack's spirited account of Exeter's victory at the game that afternoon quite failed to rouse him, both aunts glanced up, puzzled; and Mother, saying: "Let's have our coffee in the living room," went to her husband and touched his shoulder.

"What's wrong, Jim? Has something happened?"

Dad turned quickly, as if startled at the question.

"Something has," he admitted, pulling himself together with what seemed to all of them a tremendous effort, "and since the little boy's away, it's a good time to tell you. Don't bother with coffee tonight, Margaret. Come into the other room and close the door. I—I must get it over."

But after all, James Nelson did not have to break the news. It was his sister, always quick to grasp a situation, who asked as they gathered in the living room: "Did that crash in the market to-day hit you very hard, Jim?"

Her brother nodded—wet his lips. "I—I am down and out, Louise," he answered; but Nancy saw that he was looking at her mother. And Mother was looking at him, strangely. She seemed, thought the girl, stunned for just a moment.

"Down and out," James Nelson repeated grimly, still staring at his wife with eyes that had grown haggard. "After all these years the firm's gone under. I think—I fear, Margaret, that we'll have to begin all over again."

"Well," countered Mother, coming suddenly to life, "why not?" She sat down on the davenport beside Dad, and put an arm across his shoulders. "Tell us, dear, just how bad everything is."

He drew a relieved breath, as if the worst were over.

"Not so bad as it might be, perhaps. I can't go into details now; but at least, I'm not in debt to others. That's the thought I held onto when I looked at the crowd of desperate men in the stock exchange this afternoon—a terrible scene. Their faces—well, I wish I could forget them. I went back to the office and just sat there thinking—trying to see my way. I'm fifty-six. It's not easy to start again at that age, Margaret. This house is yours; but we can't afford to live here. What hurts me most is that the hardest part will fall on you—all of you, I mean. The servants, too; they'll have to go. And—and Nance was to have had her debut so soon!"

"Oh, forget it!" The girl spoke flippantly because she couldn't have spoken otherwise without crying.

"For my part," observed Jack, "I should think Sis would be relieved to get rid of all that fuss. I'll get a job, Dad. I never was keen on college anyway. I was only going so's not to disappoint you. And I won't need Mary Ann if I go to work. She'll bring in—something."

"Mary Ann" was the boy's beloved roadster. James Nelson's eyes brightened suspiciously as he said: "You're good kids, both of you. I feel better already to have you meet this blow with so much pluck. I knew I could count on Mother; and Phil's too young to feel the hurt. As for you two," (turning to his own sister and his wife's), "you're safe, thank heaven! That was my first grain of comfort—relief that I'd put your money into good, dependable bonds."

"For mercy's sake!" broke in Aunt Louise. "Why didn't you tell us sooner? If Judy's savings and mine are still intact, things aren't so bad. Even with that small capital you can start again, Jim."

"If you think I'd touch a penny—" he began, when Aunt Judy interrupted: "Why shouldn't you? What would I have now, Jim, if you hadn't managed my affairs so carefully all these years? This crash in the market is no fault of yours. Make him see sense, Margaret. Of course he'll take our money if it will help."

Said Mother: "Perhaps he won't need to if we sell this house."

"This is no time to sell real estate," Dad told her, "but I've no doubt we can rent it at a good price. And if we move to a small apartment, or even into the suburbs for a while, so as to cut all possible expense, it will give me a chance to look around."

"See here!" spoke up Aunt Judy as if inspired, "the place at Edgemere is vacant now. Why not go there and have no rent to pay?"

Judith Hale had inherited the family home at her father's death some fifteen years before; but Edgemere was more than twenty miles from the city, and as no one spoke for just a moment, she questioned: "Could you stand commuting, Louise? It would mean a pretty early start for you."

"I ought to be able to stand it as well as Jim; or I could stay in town and go home for the week-ends. But I'm thinking about Nance. It seems hard to give up a debut and be torn from all one's young friends at the same time."

This was a surprise, not only to Nancy but to her elders. It was seldom that Louise Nelson, who taught English in a fashionable girls' school, displayed sympathy of this sort. She considered the debut a foolish, unnecessary display, and had said so repeatedly. She wanted Nancy to go to college and fit herself to be a teacher. It was amazing that in this time of stress she should give thought to her niece's disappointment, and the girl said:

"Don't worry about me. If I'm not to come out in a blaze of glory, Aunt Louise, I'd almost rather be away somewhere."

"Why shouldn't Nance go to work?" asked Jack abruptly. "She's almost nineteen. Lots of girls her age—"

"Oh, see here!" broke in her father, "I guess we'll manage without that. I think your plan about Edgemere is a good one, Judith, un-

I thought I was getting a bargain—a big bag for 10c

"It's no bargain at any price! I'll bet you would get more actual mustard in 10c worth of Keen's than you would out of any 10c substitute. The extra bulk is only flour, ground up hulls and colouring matter!"

"You're right! From this time on I'm going to stick to Keen's."

less it sounds too hard for Margaret. But of course I'd pay the rent like any other tenant."

"Oh, no you wouldn't!" Aunt Judy bristled with indignation. "It's a pity if I'm not allowed to help after all you and Margaret have done for me. Don't I know that when I came here years ago you'd never have thought of engaging a mother's helper if you hadn't known I was lonely and adored the children? And later Margaret pretended to need a housekeeper, so I'd feel I wasn't imposing on you to stay longer. Take the old house and use it, Jim. I've always felt it was Margaret's as much as mine. Don't say the word rent to me again!"

She was so obviously wrought up that Dad laughed a little, and Mother said: "Honestly, Judith, since we must go somewhere, it will seem heaven to go back home. But whatever we decide, Louise must do what's best for her. As for Jack, since this term's tuition at school is already paid, he may as well finish, I suppose."

"Wouldn't they give the money back, Dad?" questioned the boy.

James Nelson glanced at his sister, the inner workings of a private school being more in her line than his; and she responded: "In a case like this I believe they'd refund most of it; though if Jack wants to finish out the year I'll finance his expenses."

"And relinquish that European trip next summer?" countered her brother.

She colored, as if guilty of some misdeed.

"Oh, what's a European trip when I've been before? I'd hate to have Jack change schools, when he's done so well; and you've set your heart on his going to Harvard, too. Let him stay where he is."

The boy arose, standing with his back to the fire as he looked down at them. During the past year he had grown an appalling number of inches and like others who shoot up with such rapidity, was far too thin.

He said, soberly: "With all due respect to you, Aunt Louise, I think I have a right to decide this thing myself. I'd feel like a slacker to stay at an expensive school when Dad has lost his money and Nance is giving up her party. You say I'm doing well in my studies, but it's only because I'm crammed, and I'm sick of cramming. I'm no bright star, and you all know it. It's a shame to disappoint you, Dad, but I'm not going to college—that is," he added, "if I can help myself."

His father answered: "But I wanted a son to graduate from my Alma Mater, boy."

"Send Phil then. Phil's smart. He'll be a credit to you. Why, that kid knows more now than I did when I entered Exeter! I'm the dumbest member of the Nelson family, but I bet I can get a job that'll pay my board. And if you ask me, so can Sis, if she's a mind to try."

Aunt Judy had been listening attentively to her nephew's words. Now she said: "He's right, I think, about leaving Exeter, Jim. Let him work for a while. He can finish school a year later if all goes well; and the boy will be happier to feel that he's helping now."

Said Jack, throwing her a grateful smile: "I can always count on our shield and defender!" And Aunt Judy continued:

"It's really queer how things happen. It just came over me that I'm out of a job, myself!"

"The very idea!" This was Mother. "While we've a roof over our heads, Judy, you've got one too—especially when the roof in question is your own property!"

Her sister laughed.

"But you see, Margaret, I feel as Jack does. I'd rather be a help than a burden; and while he was talking I remember that last week Caroline Spear told me she was hunting a suitable person to take her girls abroad. She said: 'Want the job, Judith? They'll wear you to shreds but I'll pay well for it.' Of course I laughed at the idea. I thought with Nancy's debut and everything, that I'd be needed here. But I'll call Caroline tonight and see if she still wants me. I always get along with young folks, and if they keep me sprinting maybe I'll reduce."

"Reduce!" Jack whistled expressively. "I wager that by the time you return to the land of the free, Aunt Judy, there'll be nothing left of you but just the bones and skin," like that small, red hen you used to read about to us when we were kids. Those Spear twins are wild babies, believe me. Why don't they go to Europe by themselves?"

"That's what I asked Caroline. Girls go everywhere alone these days. But it seems that their grandfather is financing the trip and stipulated that they take a chaperon."

"Chaperon!" burst from Nancy. "I didn't know they existed any more."

"They do," smiled her aunt. "You see one before you now, my dear, unless I'm too late to get the job. Don't look so mournful, Jim. It's a wonderful chance to get a trip abroad."

But her gay tone did not deceive them. Even Jack knew that Aunt Judy didn't want to go abroad with two restless young adolescents like the Spears. Dad said, after a moment:

"Well, we can't decide everything to-night, and I'm dead tired. The thought of all these changes makes me a bit sick. But I do appreciate —" He stopped, because, they all saw, it was impossible to go on; and Mother broke in with her unfailing tact:

"Let's get to bed, Jim. It's been a frightful day for you, but after a good sleep things will look brighter. As for me, I really believe it will be a relief to go back to Edgemere and drop all this 'keeping up with Liz-zie'."

She arose, a courageous smile curving her lips; but her hand sought Nancy's with a little squeeze which said as plainly as any words: "I understand, daughter; but we mustn't let him guess our disappointment."

To Save Argument

Fastening of movable objects aboard ship has been extended, in the case of the S.S. Cairnross, to chess men. Two officers, playing while the Cairnross was in port, used a board with a little hole in the centre of each black and white square. Nails at the bottom of each chess piece fitted into the holes. "Just an idea to save an argument in case of a heavy swell upsetting the board," said one officer.

The king's cancer fund will remain open during the whole jubilee season, it was announced from the office of the governor-general at Ottawa. It already has reached $300,000.

Manitoba will increase its air force—by one seaplane. The plane, for the provincial forestry patrol service, will be the first of a plane-replacement program, as the four machines now in use are getting old.

Port Arthur's jobless must break rock or they won't eat. The rock will be used for fills on other relief projects, each man being given a specified amount of rock to break for a specified amount of relief.

The first vessel to sail into Churchill, Manitoba's northern seaport, this season will be the "Ashworth" of the Dalgleish line. The Ashworth will load cargo at Newcastle and Antwerp for western Canada. She will sail from England in July.

Major C. H. Douglas, who was in Ottawa for a few days en route to Edmonton, said he was "quite confident that effective action towards an ultimately successful conclusion of a social credit plan for Canada can be initiated in Alberta."

It cost the Viennese newspaper Die Stunde 200 schillings (currently $50) to poke fun at Chancellor Adolf Hitler for his May Day speech. The fine was levied on charges that the newspaper had insulted the head of a foreign state.

Looking Back Hundred Years

Coal Oil Lamps Lighted Montreal Streets In 1835

One hundred years ago Montreal's streets were lit with coal oil lamps. In April, 1835, the city was asked for a subsidy of $500 a year by the projected gas light company. Two years later 200 gas lamps were first used to light city streets. In 1863, a new contract was made between the city and the gas company, whereby Montreal was to be supplied with 700 gas lamps. The lamps were to burn 21 nights in a month, "the other nights being declared moonlight nights."

The Ottawa Journal says for the twelve months to the end of March, Canada exported goods to the value of 659 millions, and imported to the value of 522 millions—a total trade of $1,181,000,000. Is there no message in this for the pessimists?

New Antiseptic Ice Glaze

Will Save Millions Of Dollars For Frozen Fish Trade

Prince Rupert scientists of the Pacific Fisheries Experimental station, where a constant program of research to benefit the fishing industry is carried on, have discovered a crack-proof "antiseptic ice-glaze" for frozen fish, which will mean millions of dollars saved for the frozen fish industry.

It is believed that the new process, for storage purposes, will: Prevent rusting discoloration; overcome the cracking of the glaze which resulted in stored fish drying out, and gases in the storage chamber penetrating to the surface of the fish; prevent deterioration and consequent unpalatability.

The new glaze is antiseptic, and thus kills bacteria on fish or makes them negligible.

Process invented, and already demonstrated by one British Columbia firm, which glazed 100,000 pounds of halibut with every success, is cheap and easy.

Little Journeys In Science

ANIMAL PARASITES

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

An animal parasite can be defined as "an animal which lives in, or on, other organisms." Parasitism is a mode of life and is not confined to any one group of animals. Every group in the animal kingdom contains some parasitic members but those most prolific in parasites are the protozoa, the arthropods and the flat and round "worms".

The protozoa are single-celled and as a rule can only be observed by means of the microscope. This group of animal organisms contains quite a few parasitic forms. These include the parasites of malaria, sleeping-sickness and red-water in cattle. The arthropods are mostly external parasites and they carry infecting organisms from one host to another. The biting flies, mosquitoes, lice, fleas and ticks all function in this way. The arthropod group of organisms also contain a number of true internal parasites, such as the warbles of cattle and the bots of horses, which are of much economic importance.

Parasitism always leads to specialization on the part of the parasite. Unused organs degenerate, whereas used organs become larger or more efficient. The host furnishes food and warmth and hence, in the internal parasites at least, there is a corresponding degeneration of the appendages and locomotion organs. At the same time, their power to increase in numbers becomes much greater because of the increased dangers of passing from one host to another. Many young parasites fall by the way and only a few survive to continue the race.

In civilized countries parasites are not very common, although they do occur, and parasitic disease breaks out when the least chance is given. In the tropics, however, there is a continual struggle against parasites. Malaria is still the greatest killing disease in the world; flea-carried plague annually claims the lives of thousands; hookworm infects sixty per cent. of the earth's population. The greatest diseases of the tropics are mostly parasitic, whereas those of the temperate climates are chiefly caused by bacteria which are plant parasites.

YOUR HANDWRITING REVEALS YOUR CHARACTER!

By LAWRENCE HIBBERT
(Grapho-Analyst)
(All Rights Reserved)

In certain of my articles I have endeavored to answer certain objections that some correspondents have raised regarding Graphology. As a result I have received quite a number of letters from readers expressing their agreement with my comments.

But one correspondent took issue with me, and all because of certain things I had told him about himself. Apparently I had told him that he thought too much about himself—that he was too self-satisfied.

He said that he was not at all like this—but it took him eight large pages to tell me what he did think about himself. There is nothing very much to answer to this gentleman, excepting to express the conviction that if he thought he needed eight large pages to give me his opinion of himself, then indeed my previous observations about him were correct; that, indeed, he did think too much of himself.

In the same mail there came a very broadminded letter from a man of forty years of age. He thanked me for analysing his character, and went on to say: Thank you for giving me the best laugh I've had in years—a laugh not at you, but at myself! When I wrote to you for a character analysis I did it with my tongue in my cheek, as it were. I didn't for a moment believe that you could tell me anything like the truth. But you have done just that. You told me that I was selfish and self-centred, and was very much inclined to study my own self-interest. Well that was a good one on me, because I am sufficiently broadminded to know that you have got me down exactly as I am. I admire your courage in telling me the unpalatable truth, although I had asked you to show me no mercy!

Now, it isn't everyone who can be so broadminded about his faults—but there is a lesson in this letter, and that is the reason I have quoted it. There is no virtue in fooling ourselves! Most people have faults of one kind or another—and it is the height of wisdom to wish to learn about them, so that they may be rectified. The great trouble with most of us is that we do not really know ourselves. It takes an unbiased outsider to tell the real truth—and Graphology, because of its scientific accuracy, will show the real truth about you.

Would you like to have your own character analysed from your handwriting? This well-known Graphologist can help you as he has helped so many of our readers. And he may be able to help you to know your friends better. Send specimens of the handwriting you wish to be analysed, stating birthdate in each case. Send 10c coin for each specimen, and enclose with a 3c stamped addressed envelope, to: Lawrence Hibbert, care of Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave., Winnipeg, Man. All letters will be confidential and replies will be mailed as soon as possible. Please allow about two weeks for your reply, however, owing to the volume of mail.

Seeking Canadian Capital

Ethiopia Wants Business Men To Develop Natural Resources

Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia, desires Canadian business men to develop Ethiopia's natural resources, James H. Mason, Toronto mining, metallurgical and refractory engineer, stated recently after an interview with Premier L. A. Taschereau.

Mr. Mason, with Prof. S. A. B. Mercer, of Trinity College, University of Toronto, now in Australia, has been appointed by the Ethiopian Emperor to negotiate with the Dominion government for development of trade between Canada and the East African nations.

As French was widely spoken in Ethiopia, Premier Taschereau was approached because it was thought advisable to have French-speaking experts work in the planned development of Ethiopia natural resources.

"The Ethiopians have learned Canada is not inclined to grab territory from others," said Mr. Mason. "They fear the imperialistic militarism of Europe and so will not allow Europeans to obtain concessions in their country for the future, but Canadians are invited to enter."

Conferences had been held with Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Opposition Leader W. L. Mackenzie King, Mr. Mason said, and the Dominion government was prepared to co-operate in forwarding commercial intercourse with Ethiopia.

The Emperor of Ethiopia, with his minister of state "has definitely requested Canadians to come to his country and use their skill in developing the country in industrial enterprise and in her rich mining fields," Mr. Mason said. The province of Gojam, containing the richest gold fields in Ethiopia, had been set aside, he stated, especially for Canadian development.

GARDENING

Gordon L. Smith

Thinning Important

Thinning of both flowers and vegetables is most important after the plants are up an inch or so. With flowers a good rule is to have half as much space between as the plants are high. This will be about a foot between ordinary Marigolds, Petunias and Asters, two to three feet between Cosmos, and Dahlias, but only an inch or so separating tiny Alyssum, Lobelia and other edging plants. Well spaced flowers will be more sturdy, thus resisting heavy winds and rain, and the plants will be more symmetrical. Even the smallest vegetables such as lettuce and radish, must be thinned too. An inch or so will be sufficient and that is also the room that will be needed for carrots and beets, because when these things have developed roots an inch thick and two or three long, every other plant should be removed and used, and this proceeding followed until the whole row is used up.

Hot Weather Vegetables

Tender beans, tomato plants, squash, cucumbers, and melons should not be planted outside until both weather and soil are really warm. In order to get a long and steady supply of green beans make at least three plantings at intervals of ten days and use several varieties. To do the same thing with tomatoes one may use a few well started plants for the first crop and hurry these along with fertilizer and possibly mulch paper. All garden tomatoes should be staked, using either wooden or steel stakes about six feet high. Trim off all side shoots as they develop, training the main stem up along the stake and tying loosely about every foot. All these warm weather vegetables prefer rich open soil and any members of the melon family, that is squash, cucumber, citron, etc., take special delight in hot sandy soil though it must be made rich with well rotted manure or good garden fertilizer. Along with the vegetables mentioned one may set out egg plants, well started peppers, and the first planting of celery. The latter must have very rich soil and water during dry weather.

Can Still Have Garden

While it is important to get a portion of seed in early in order to stretch out the season as long as possible, in practically every section of Canada it is possible to continue planting such things as beans, spinach, radish, lettuce, carrots, beets, and corn, right up to July, and if well started plants can be obtained, this late work may include, tomatoes, cabbage and cauliflowers, too. In flowers it would be well to secure well started plants from the nearest green house. Of course where the whole garden is put in late, say after the middle of June, it would be well to hurry along a portion of it at least with quick acting commercial fertilizer and if possible, water. Frequent cultivation is essential.

Out of active service for some years past, Canadian Pacific liner Melita has been sold to Italian shipbreakers. She was built in Glasgow in 1918.

"Never betray a trust; be honest; do what other men can do; and work your eight hours a day," is the recipe for success enunciated by Caleb R. Smith, international chairman of the Million-Dollar Round Table, speaking to the Life Underwriters in convention at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, recently.

James G. Millar, Medicine Hat, veteran Canadian Pacific engineer, recently celebrated his 82nd birthday, when railway acquaintances and relatives gathered to congratulate him. He was born in Drummondville, Que., and has been drawing a railroad cheque for more than 64 years.

A couple of score of fine old railroaders who five decades ago helped push the steel around the north shore of Lake Superior for the Canadian Pacific Railway, gathered near Jackfish, Ont., recently, to re-enact the driving of the last spike at Noso on May 16, 1885. Alex. Anderson, Port Arthur, who held the spike when it was driven fifty years ago, drove home a new gilded spike with a vigor that belied his 81 years.

Youngs gave a full and most interesting report on the provincial convention Mrs. Evans took the monthly short talk on "The League of Nations." A paper on Canadianization, written by Mrs. I. Fitch of Calgary was read by Mrs. White. An amusing photographic contest rounded out a full afternoon's programme. The meeting adjourned with the National Anthem and lunch was served. ## The Prairie Apple Tree.

By L. J. W.

Transplanted from its infant rest
'Mid orchard's leafy shade sublime.

A sapling, vigorous, it came To brave a rugged western clime.

Deep-rooted, stoical it grew;
Begot with time the eye to bless;
Reward for courage might it seem—
This snowy, scented loveliness.

What makes within a longing stir,
The footsteps yearn to linger so,
As passing near one senses deep
A breath of old Ontario?

(Ah! does not it the strongest move,
When memories come winging back

Forgotten joys—alas, of which Long, trying years have known a lack).

Symbolical of faith and trust—
The planting of this apple tree;
The planter too (in reverence bow)—
All homage due his memory!

She: "Why don't you like girls?"

He: "Oh, they're too biased."

She: "Biased?"

He: "Yes, bias this and bias that, until I'm broke."
